

Carrie Pomplun - Flute Instructor

Carrie Pomplun is a flutist and certified music teacher originally from the Chicago suburbs. She received her Bachelor of Music degree from the Lawrence University Conservatory of Music (Appleton, WI) in 2008, where she studied flute with Ernestine Whitman. She then earned her Master of Education degree (ME-PD) from the University of Wisconsin- La Crosse in 2017, with her action research focusing on effective practice habits for student musicians. Currently, Carrie is a freelance flutist, serves as the flute instructor for the La Crosse Youth Symphony Orchestras, and teaches band and orchestra for Aquinas elementary schools.

Carrie's flute studio has students of all ages- young students who have started the flute before band is even offered in school, adults, and all ages in between in between. Regardless of age or ability, Carrie welcomes all new students and assesses their current playing level to come up with an individualized plan for each person. Students learn in a fun and relaxed environment that allows them to ask questions and enjoy making music.

New! Ask Carrie about starting students as young as age 7 with a curved flute headjoint, which allows smaller students' arms to reach the keys easier. This headjoint is available to rent for a small monthly fee.
