

Liz Wanschura – Piano Instructor

Liz Wanschura has taught piano in the La Crosse area for over 35 years. A native of St. Paul, MN, Liz studied piano performance with Katherine Faricy at St. Catherine's University and Duncan McNab at the University of Minnesota. She has served as an adjudicator at many WSMA and WMTA competitions, and several of her students have gone on to careers in music.

Liz welcomes students of all ages, musical interests and abilities, and especially enjoys teaching adult beginners, and those who "wished they never stopped taking lessons as a kid". Each student is an individual with a unique learning style, and Liz strives to tailor her instruction to fit the student. "It is never too late to learn to play the piano and discover the deep joy that music can bring to life."
